

Statement Relating to Online or Hard Drive Courses and Cases

The Conjoint Committee for Recognition of Training in CT Coronary Angiography notes that there are an increasing number of online or hard drive based CTCA training materials and courses available to specialists seeking to gain experience or maintain their experience in CT Coronary Angiography.

While they may provide reflective case experience, online or hard drive courses and cases do not satisfy the requirements for either live or library cases as set out in the Conjoint Committee's Training Requirements for CTCA Specialists, which are available from www.anzctca.org.

September 2011